NOTICE
If you use a virus scanner, make sure that the computer has enough system resources.

Restore points

Note

The "SIMATIC NET PC Software" DVD consists of several individual setups and after they have been installed, the Microsoft operating systems create restore points.

It is pointless to restore to an interim setup status (to the status of a partially installed "SIMATIC NET PC Software" DVD)!

2.1.3 Requirements and notes relating to the hardware

Note

We recommend that you first install the software and license as described in this documentation and install the communications processors afterwards.

Bus collisions after reinstallation

If two PROFIBUS communications processors are installed in one computer, when the computer starts up, both communications modules are assigned bus address 0. This causes collisions if both modules are connected to the same bus.

Solution
Set different bus addresses for the communications processors before attaching to the bus.
